

Cody Pedigo is a third generation pipeliner and a second generation Local Union 798 member. He has had the honor of serving this Local in the field for the last eighteen years, twelve of those as a Welder member. He has served as a Welder, Job Steward, and a UA Convention delegate. He is a family man, having been married for sixteen years to his wife Cherry and been blessed with two boys. His oldest son, Jacob, is now fifteen, while his youngest, Joshua, will soon be twelve. Like many who grew up in this industry, he started his pipelining career straight out of high school, it is all he's ever known. He is very proud to say that he's never had any possession in his life that wasn't bought with a negotiated dollar, everything he has he owes to the talent the Lord has blessed him with, his family, and the opportunities provided by Local Union 798. Cody looks forward to serving this great Local for as long as the membership sees fit. He only hopes that, like his father, he can help in the continued growth of this amazing institution so it can be a blessing to his boys, just as it was to him.
